MADE IT RIGHT.

Yet It Was Not Easy For the Salesman
to Grasp the Boss' Scheme.

In one of the suburbs of London there is a wholesale firm the senior member of which may be known as Mr. Blank. The firm has two traveling salesmen—a single man, receiving 30 shillings per week, and the other a married man, drawing £2 per week.

A short time ago the single man, being in the shop and looking over matters, discovered that the married salesman was receiving 10 shillings per week more salary than himself, while he (the single man) was selling more goods. He called Mr. Blank's attention to this and suggested that, as he was selling more than the other fellow, he should at least receive as much pay.

The senior partner acknowledged the apparent inconsistency and assured him that he would look into it and if the statement were correct he would make matters right.

Another week rolled by, and when the single man came to draw his salary from the bookkeeper he was surprised to find only 30 shillings passed out to him the same as before. He demurred. The bookkeeper insisted he had received no instructions to raise his pay and referred him to the governor. Approaching Mr. Blank, he said:

"You remember, sir, I spoke to you last week about my salary, stating that while I was selling more goods than the other traveler, I was receiving less pay, and I thought I should receive as much as he did. You assured me you would look into it and make matters right."

"Yes," said Mr. Blank, "I remember your mentioning the matter, and I made it right, didn't I?"

"Why, no! I don't see how you have, as the bookkeeper has just paid me the same amount as before. I can't see how that is making it right, sir."

"You don't understand," said the senior partner. "I have made it right. You thought you ought to have as much pay as the other man, and I have made it right by cutting the other fellow's pay down."—London Tit-Bits.

THE ENCORE HABIT.

How Sims Reeves Turned the Tables on One of His Admirers.

Sims Reeves, who in his day was accepted as the most celebrated tenor on the concert stage, was so much of a favorite that whenever he sang he was usually greeted with a hearty encore, accompanied with enthusiastic cheers.

Reeves was very good natured about the matter, but he made it a rule never to sing more than one selection when he felt that his voice was not in first class shape. He happened to notice that an elderly man, who turned out to be a dealer in hats along the Strand, London, attended nearly every concert within convenient distance if Sims Reeves happened to be on the bill and generally led the encore brigade. This habit was a persistent person and often applauded until he had forced Reeves to respond to double and triple encores.

Determined to teach the little hatter a lesson, one afternoon just as dark was approaching Reeves entered his admirer's store and said, "One hat, please," naming the particular shape which he desired. The little hatter did not recognize the great tenor and handed out one hat.

"Good," said Reeves. "How much is this hat?"

"Five shillings," said the store proprietor.

"Encore," said Reeves.

A second hat was forthcoming, and Reeves ultimately obtained three "encore" hats. When the little hatter demanded 15 shillings for the purchases Reeves pretended to be furious.

"Send these four hats to this address," ordered the tenor in terrible tone, "but I only pay for one hat. Do you understand? The three other hats are 'encore' hats. If you make me shillings for nothing you must send me hats for nothing."

The little hatter was speechless—Portland Oregonian.

GUIDEPOSTS IN FRANCE.

A Striking Feature of the Roads Throughout the Country.

A feature of the roads of France is the ever present guidepost. These guideposts consist of an iron plaque about two feet long and a foot high securely mounted on sturdy posts or fastened to some substantial wall. They are painted in white and blue and show without any possibility of mistake not only the commune or township in which they stand, but the next important place in either direction as well as the distances between all the chief points upon that route. Thus you will find if you are traveling on a road which leads to Paris that the name of the metropolis will appear on the signboard, although it may be several hundred kilometers distant.

In addition to these guideposts the Touring Club of France has put on the chief roads a series of signs and symbols to indicate to motorists and bicyclists what sort of a road they are approaching. The sign "valentin," which translated into good United States means to "let up," has caused many a motorist who is unfamiliar with the road he is traveling to slow down and to find shortly after the sign had been passed that it was well that he paid attention to it because of a steep grade or some abrupt turn. There is no excuse, in view of the symbols and signboards, for any one motoring in France to get on the wrong road or to come unexpectedly into trouble.—Frank Presbury in Outing Magazine.

Compulsory Education.
"I never thought him very bright, but he certainly has a splendid education."

"Well, you see, he lost one of his legs, and he couldn't go into athletics, so he just had to study at college."—Houston Post.

ABOUT THE STATE.

The E. L. Chandler Co., Barton Landing, reports that prospects indicate that it will start some branches of its industry about March 1.

The Rev. C. E. Ross, who was expected to begin his pastorate of the Baptist church at Poultney this month, has been obliged to defer his coming a few weeks.

Ex-Gov. J. W. Stewart and daughter, Miss Jessie Stewart, of Middlebury, have gone to New York city. From there they expect to go to Colorado for a stay of several weeks.

The Rev. J. H. C. Cooper, who was pastor in the Methodist church at Stamford for six years and who later entered the Episcopal ministry, has been elected rector of a large parish at Gloucester, Mass.

Nearly forty men are engaged in filling the ice house of Swift & Co., at Newport. The men who struck last winter for higher wages were turned away this season. The price paid last winter was $1.75, while this year it is $1.20 a day.

Dr. C. F. Dalton of Burlington, is able to resume his practice after being confined to his home for eight weeks. Doctor Dalton's eyes were injured in a runaway accident in which some powerful fumigating acid was spilled. His eyesight will not be impaired.

At the dog show in Schenectady, N. Y., last week, the first and two second prizes were won by the French bulldog owned by C. C. Fletcher of Rutland. The competition in the collie class was of the keenest, there being 97 entries. Robert MacFarlane of Rutland, won third place in the open class with his collie pup, "Scalp Ruby."

The Vermont Hardware Co., Burlington, having purchased the stock and good will of the Holton Hardware Co., took possession of the business Monday morning. C. M. Russell, who served the old corporation as president and manager, will continue in that capacity with the Vermont Hardware Co. A. E. Tynon, formerly freight agent of the Rutland railroad in Burlington, is the vice-president, with Dan R. Campbell, for the past few years a director and buyer with the Vermont Hardware Co., of Bellows Falls, as treasurer.

Tim Rev. Walter H. Cambridge, a master of St. Mark's school at Southboro, Mass., and a graduate from the university of Vermont, Burlington, in the class of 1894, has recently declined the position of warden of Racine college, Wis. Mr. Cambridge began his successful teaching of boys at Rock Island institute, Burlington, in 1895. He has since been at St. Mark's, Racine, college has been converted into a military school and the warden is the head of the institution.

Railroad Seeks Damages.
C. S. Palmer of Montpelier, as attorney for the Central Vermont railroad Co., and the railroad company's managers, the American Trust Co., has filed a petition to the Chittenden county court for the March term for the appointment of commissioners to make examination and to report to the court all questions as to the convenience and needs of the public or individuals in the matter of the extension of College street to the low water mark in Lake Champlain. The petition also asks that the commissioners allow to the petitioners damages sustained by reason of the proposed extension.

Following the order of the street commissioners for the extension of College street they filed a report with the petitioners or to others who claim rights in the property in question. This action was taken on the ground that the city owns the College street property through to low water mark.

AT BURLINGTON APRIL 8.
Place and Date of Republican State Convention.

Burlington, Feb. 13.—A meeting of the Republican state committee was held here yesterday afternoon, all the members being present but J. H. Walbridge, of Concord, the member from Essex county and E. W. Gibson of Brattleboro, the member from Windham county. Col. Thad M. Chapman, of Middlebury, the chairman, presided.

It was decided to hold the state convention to nominate delegates at large to the national convention at Burlington, April 8. At this time Congressman Charles B. Landis of Indiana will address the convention.

The plan for holding the convention to nominate state officers will be discussed, although it is not expected that the date will be fixed at this time. The convention probably will be held in June.

Some previous conventions were held as follows: 1860, April 3; 1868, March 18; 1876, March 29; 1892, Feb. 25; 1894, April 29; 1896, April 13; 1898, April 29; 1900, April 13; 1904, April 29.

No Cause to Worry.
"Mind, now," said the judge, "you are sworn in to tell the truth and if you do not the penitentiary will be your portion."

The man took the oath and then whispered to his friend.

"John, I'm afraid it's all up with you—the judge says I've got to tell the truth."

"That's all right, Jim," said his friend with confidence. "I ain't a worryin' about that, kaze you can't do it."—Atlanta Constitution.

The Master Was Out.
"Is the master of the house in?" inquired the smooth-tongued book agent of the little boy who had answered his ring.

"Little boys should not tell falsehoods," said the book agent. "Isn't that your father reading the newspaper there by the window?"

"Yep," was the answer, "that's pa all right, but ma is out."—Youth's companion.

A FARMER'S KNOCK.

A Rebuke to Restaurants Which Object to Bucolic Appetites.

"I notice that an Atchinson restaurant proprietor does not want the farmer patronage. If he will allow his name to be published, we farmers will see that he is accommodated. We are not objects of charity, and no farmer will knowingly eat where he is not wanted. There is this to be said about the farmer: When he goes to the city he does not look up some person with whom he has a hawing acquaintance, expecting to be invited to dinner, but goes to a restaurant where he expects to pay a regular price for a regular dinner. If he orders a second cup of coffee, he finds his ticket charged from 35 cents to 50 cents. Considering that very good coffee retails at 20 cents a pound, and much of it sells for less, it would seem that the restaurant keeper need not be in danger of going into bankruptcy on that score.

"As for the city men being so delicate eaters, maybe those who patronize restaurants are, but those who come to the country can generally hold up their end of the string with the farmer in the stowing away of victuals. Every farmer has city friends of whom he is very fond, and when he invites them to his home the guest is welcome to the best the house affords, and nothing pleases the farmer more than to have his guests help themselves liberally. But another thing every farmer also knows is that there are lots of city men in the country on any little business who will, upon a very slight pretext or invitation, take a seat at the farmer's table and, after the meal, will remunerate him with a few big words to the farmer's wife (100 of which would not cash in for a penny even before the financial panic).

"But one thing Mr. City-man never forgets, and the farmers have heard it so often, that they can hardly keep from screaming when they hear it, it: How much it costs to live in the city; how high everything is; how much a meal like the one before him would cost, etc., and wimps up saying, 'And here it does not cost you a thing! Does it cost you a thing? Well, I have farmed a good many years, and never got something for nothing yet. Everything on our table represents work, time and money invested by some one. Because a man is a farmer, it need not necessarily follow that he is an ignorant. Take it as a rule, he knows just as well, and just as quickly as the square deal, and when he is criticized because he eats all of the bread and butter placed before him at a restaurant, where in a great many places all the bread means two small slices of baker's bread, neither of which will make more than two or three bites, and a cube of butter barely sufficient to spread one piece of the bread, he feels—well, just a little sore.'"

—Atchinson Globe.

TRADE IN CALVES GOOD.
Twenty-five Steers and Oxen Bring 5 to 5½ Cents Per Pound.

Boston, Feb. 13.—Nearly 300 calves were sold at the Brighton stockyards Tuesday at prices ranging from 6½ to 7½ cents per pound. Prices of beef cattle firm, but trade in the other varieties of livestock was dull.

Twenty-five steers and oxen were sold at prices ranging from 5 to 5½ cents per pound. Three bulls brought 4½ cents and about a dozen oxen, weighing from 1,000 to 1,200 pounds each, 4 cents per pound. The 200 other beef cows on the market brought from $2 to $3.50 a hundred weight.

The 11 lambs on the market brought 5 cents per pound and 40 sheep 3½ cents. The hog trade continued dull, three selling for 4½ cents. One hog, weighing 460, sold for 4½ cents.

Owing to the warmer weather, the trade in milk cows is expected to be better than that of the last market. About 300 are for sale, some of which are of extra good stock. A few fancy animals were sold yesterday among them being two thoroughbred Holsteins by W. F. Wallace, one bringing $70 and the other $85. F. L. Libby sold a fancy Holstein bull for $50.

Among the choice stock offered for sale is a thoroughbred Holstein bull, brought to market by W. F. Wallace, attracted considerable attention. It is "Sir Hartog," three years old, weighs 1,350 and has a pedigree certified by the Holstein-Friesian association of America.

DIAMOND CASE FINISHED.
Business of Supreme Court May Be Completed To-morrow.

St. Johnsbury, Feb. 13.—In the supreme court of St. Johnsbury the case of George Caldwell vs. Charles Simonds began Tuesday afternoon was finished yesterday. This is an action for alleged fraud in the sale of a diamond. The case was tried at the June, 1907, term of Caledonia county court and verdict rendered for the plaintiff. The defendant excepted. The ground of the exception is that the county court overruled a motion by the defendant to dismiss the suit on the ground of insufficient service, in that the body of the defendant was arrested in an action founded upon a contract. Howe and Hovey of St. Johnsbury appeared for the defendant, and David E. Porter and R. W. Simonds, also of St. Johnsbury, for the plaintiff.

After this case, the following cases are to be taken up: Oliver H. Jenness vs. Walter Simpson, Christian Dietrich vs. Lydia Hutchinson, W. L. Currier vs. Edward King, apt. Abbie B. Davis et al. vs. George W. Davis et al, and State vs. Julia Sartwell.

THE PEOPLE ALL.

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbro's Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found, who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means, a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. Send 25c in stamps payable to The Herpicide Co.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.
